

Find top-rated doctors in your network

Whether you're looking for a primary care doctor, specialist or nurse practitioner, you deserve clear information to guide your decisions. Our provider search tool shows performance ratings for many providers and specialists in your network, so you can choose with confidence.

Provider Performance

Performance at a glance

In your search results, you'll see performance ratings from 1 to 3, with higher numbers for providers who have proven track records of following medical best practices and delivering high-quality, cost-effective care.

3/3: Highest rating (shown first)

2/3: Mid-level rating

Not rated: Not enough data or provider type not rated

1/3: Baseline rating (shown last)

Who's rated

The ratings apply to primary care physicians (MD and DO), some specialists and non-physicians, such as nurse practitioners and physician assistants.

Customize your search

Higher-rated providers appear first in your search results, but you can filter your results by other criteria that matter to you, including distance, gender, language, accepting new patients and more.
