

References

S-216

1. InterQual® Level of Care Criteria, 2018 Acute Care Adult. McKesson Health Solutions, LLC.
2. Lester R, Brown L, Eckel L, et al. Clinical outcomes of children and adults with central nervous system primitive neuroectodermal tumor. J Neurooncol. 2014; 120(2): 371-379.
3. Odagiri K, Omura M, Hata M, et al. Treatment outcomes and late toxicities in patients with embryonal central nervous system tumors. Radiat Oncol. 2014; 9:201.
4. Alsultan A, Alharbi M, Al-Dandan S, et al. High-dose chemotherapy with autologous stem cell rescue in Saudi children less than 3 years of age with embryonal brain tumors. J Pediatr Hematol Oncol. 2015; 37(3):204-208.
5. Lester RA, Brown LC, Eckel LJ, et al. Clinical outcomes of children and adults with central nervous system primitive neuroectodermal tumor. J Neurooncol. 2014; 120(2):371-379.
6. Louis D, Perry A, Burger P, et al. International Society of Neuropathology-Haarlem consensus guidelines for nervous system tumor classification and grading. Brain Pathol. 2014; 24:429–435.
7. Dufour C, Kieffer V, Grill J, et al. Tandem high-dose chemotherapy and autologous stem cell rescue in children with newly diagnosed high-risk medulloblastoma or supratentorial primitive neuro-ectodermic tumors. Pediatr Blood & Cancer. 2014; 61(8):1398-1402.
8. Benesch M, Bartelheim K, Frühwald M, et al. High-dose chemotherapy (HDCT) with auto-SCT in children with atypical teratoid/rhabdoid tumors (AT/RT): a report from the European Rhabdoid Registry (EU-RHAB). Bone Marrow Transplant. 2014;49(3):370-375
9. Cohen BH, Geyer JR, Miller DC, et al. Pilot study of intensive chemotherapy with peripheral hematopoietic cell support for children less than 3 years of age with malignant brain tumors, the CCG-99703 Phase I/II Study. A report from the Children's Oncology Group. Ped Neurol. 2015; 53:31-46.
10. Raleigh DR, Tomlin B, Del Buono B, et al. Survival after chemotherapy and stem cell transplant followed by delayed craniospinal irradiation is comparable to upfront craniospinal irradiation in pediatric embryonal brain tumor patients. J Neurooncol. 2017; 131:359-368.
11. Osario DS, Dunkel IJ, Cervone KA, et al. Tandem thiotepa with autologous hematopoietic cell rescue in patients with recurrent, refractory, or poor prognosis solid tumor malignancies. Pediatr Blood Cancer. 2018; 65:e26776.
12. National Comprehensive Cancer Network (NCCN). NCCN clinical practice guidelines in oncology: central nervous system cancers. Version 2.2018.