

Healthier
doctor visits
start well before
you check-in

Make the most of your doctor visits by bringing the right information and questions. You may want to bring someone with you for support and to take notes so you get all the details correct.

